Text & Spell Word Work

iPhone

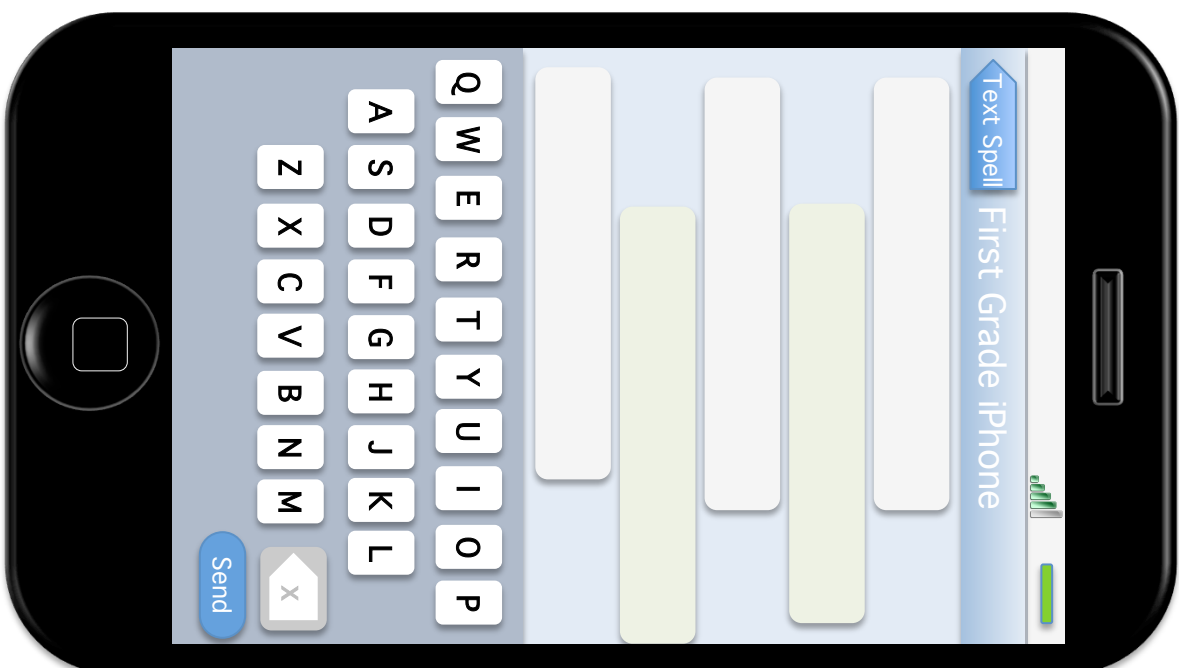

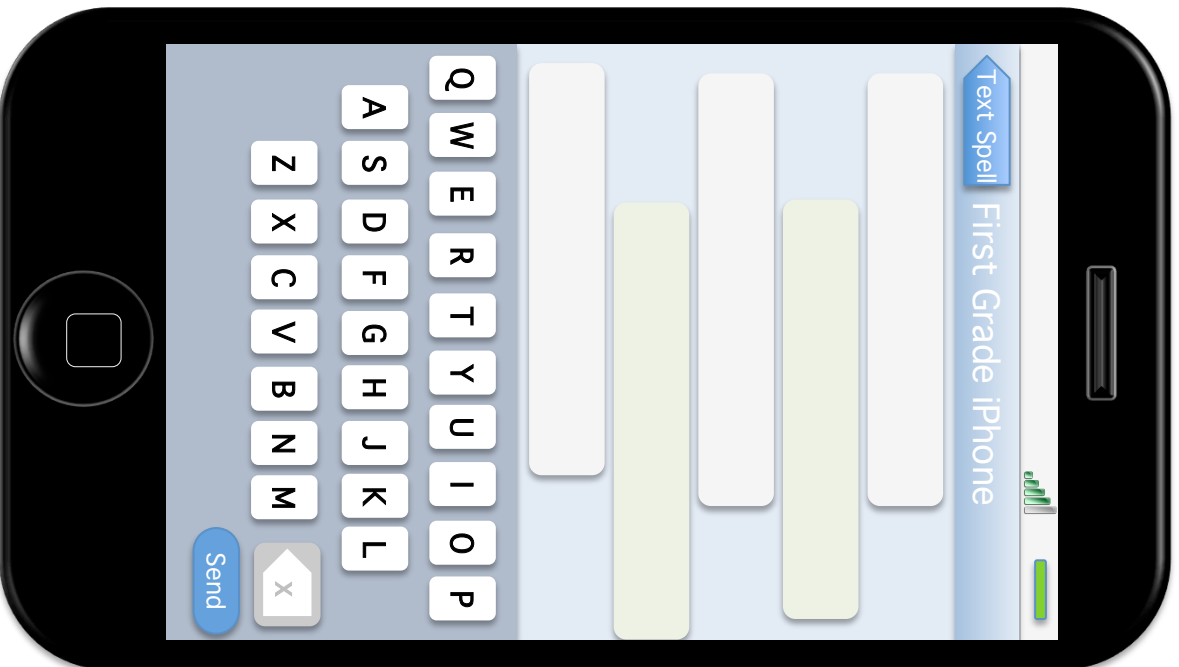

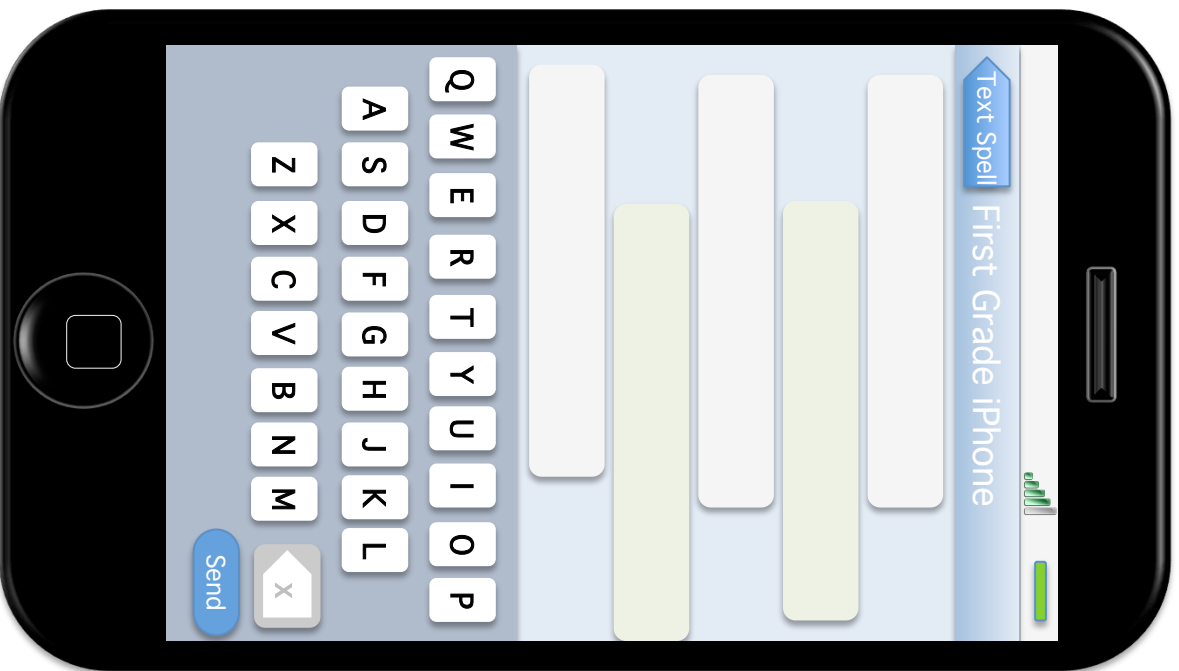

In my classroom, my kiddos use these “iPhones” to practice words during independent word work time. Usually they practice their spelling and sight/high-frequency words – but sometimes I catch them “texting” conversations to each other. It is such a thrill to watch them enjoy writing {especially when they don’t realize that’s what they are doing!}.

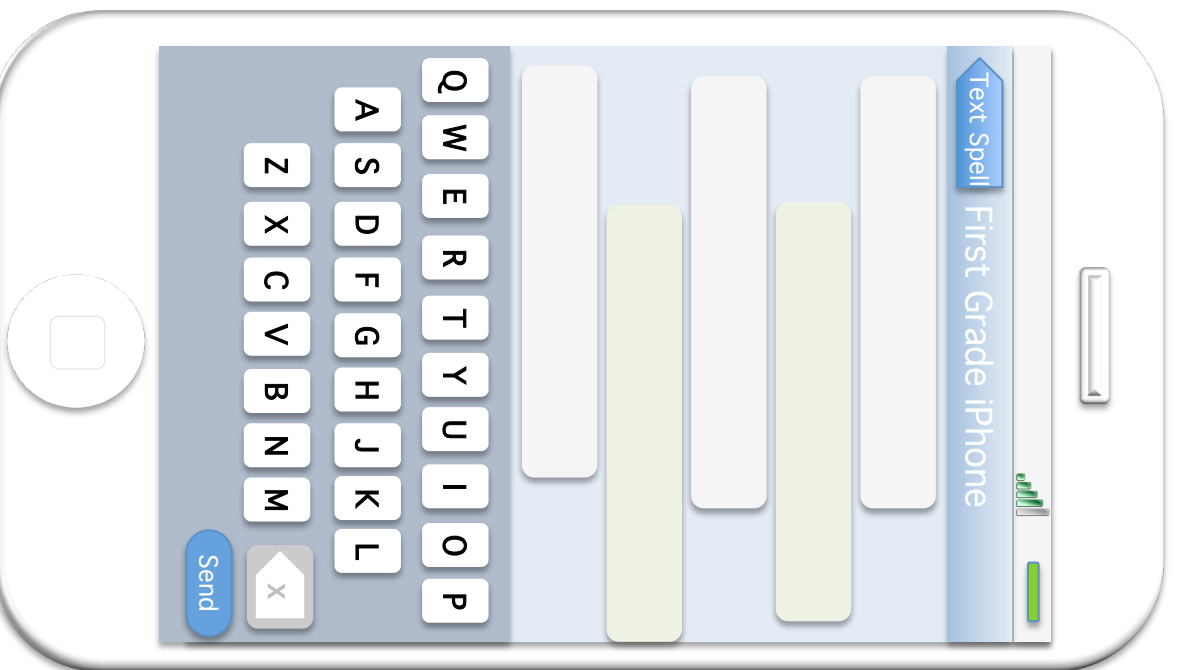

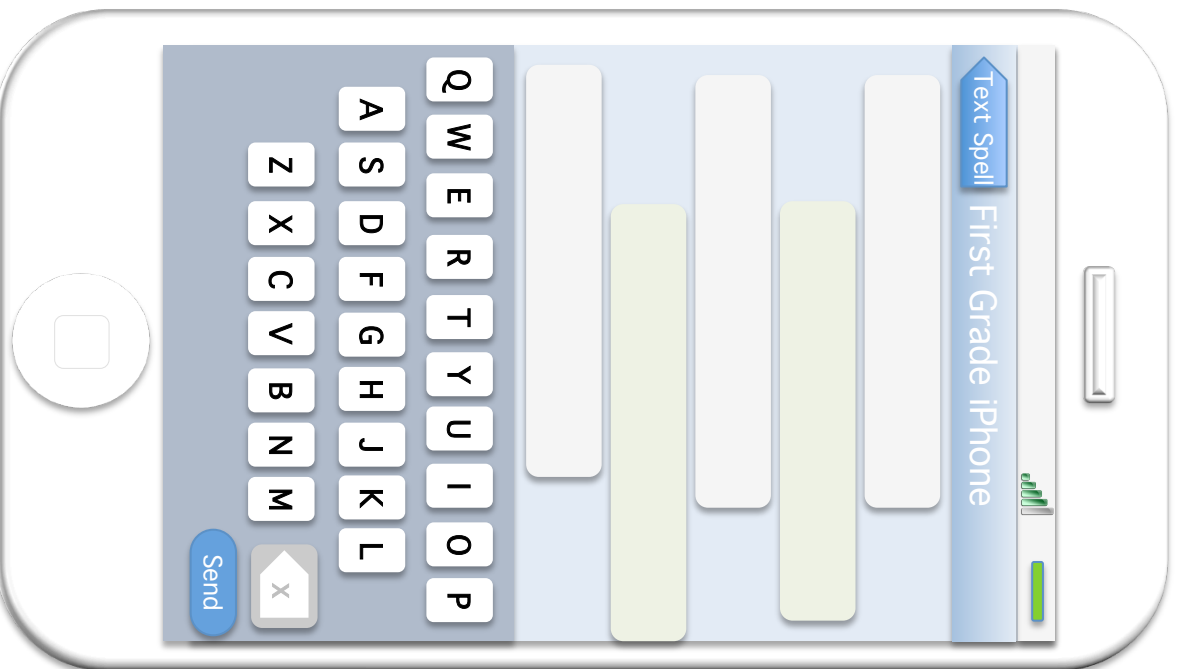

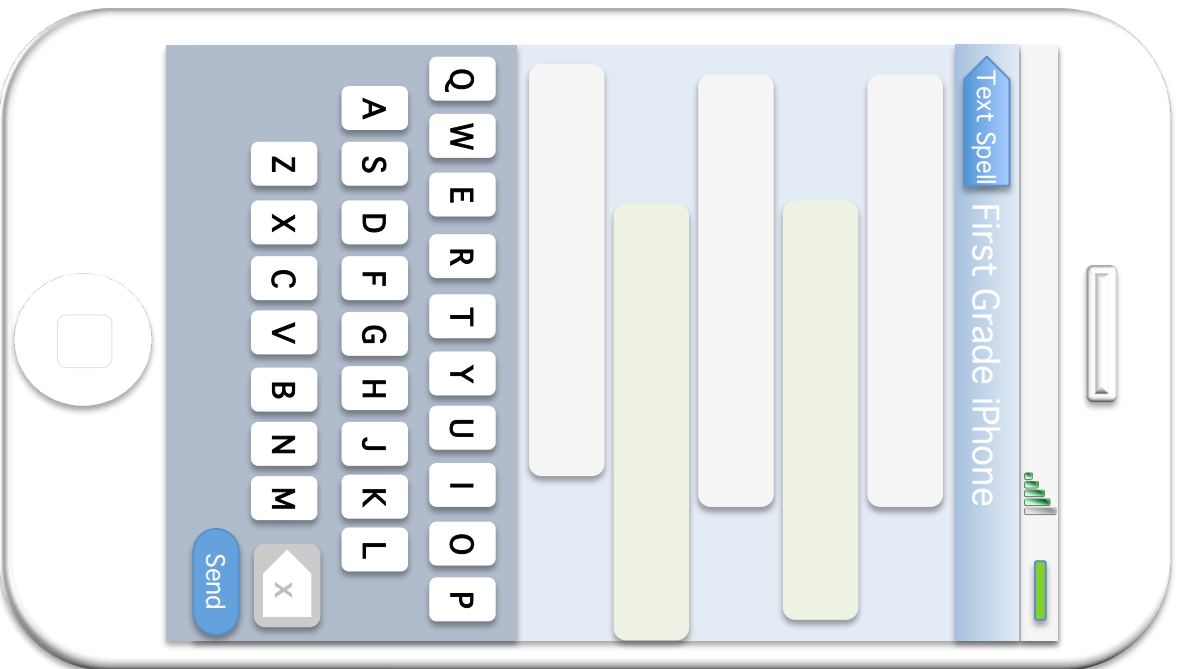

Simply print the phones on card stock, cut and laminate them, and set them out with a supply of either vis-à-vis or white board markers.

My kids use the word lists hanging around the room for their words to “text”. You certainly could provide them with a list to practice.

I’m thrilled to share this with so many of you. The outpouring of gratitude, and amazing number of downloads of these phones has been tremendous.

I would GREATLY appreciate it if in return for this product you would please follow my website, Teacher’s Notebook Store and Teachers Pay Teachers Store.
